The following letter explains itself:

Young Men's Catholic Union.
Gentlemen:—I have seen Mr. Edward Hughes and have selected a "Liberty" wheel. With best wishes I remain
Very truly yours,
E. L. SINGLAK,
149 Baxter St., New York

In pursuance of an act passed by the Legislature of New Jersey for the construction of sidewalks and to provide for other improvements in the Township of Bloomfield, the taxpayers met in their respective districts on Monday night and appropriated the following amounts: First District, Day's store, Brookdale, no appropriation; Second District, Town Committee rooms, $300; Third District, Dawkins' store, Montgomery Street, $300; Fourth District, Police station, $500.

The tenth anniversary of Bloomfield Council No. 100, Royal Arcanum, was held in Central Hall, last Friday night. There was standing room only. The programme consisted of an address of welcome by Regent, Alexander Steel.

An historical sketch, "The Tenth Anniversary of Bloomfield Council No. 100," by Past Regent, Frank G. Tower, followed. There came the illustrated lecture "Footprints of Washington," by John F. Dillon, which was entertaining and instructive. Bloomfield Council has now a membership of 129, and still increasing.

The streets in the township were lighted for the first time on Wednesday night with electricity. In some places the service was excellent, while at other points the lights were found to be too far apart and consequently will give poor satisfaction. The system is as yet incomplete and will be considerably improved. To-day the gas in Bloomfield has been turned off from the street lamps, and to-night the are lights on the principal streets will afford the only illumination.

William C. Carl will give a fine concert in the Park M. E. Church to-night, assisted by Miss Mand Morgan, harpist; Miss Hall, Diamond Nathan, soprano; Mr. E. Ellsworth Giles, tenor.

OLEN RIDGE NOTES.
Miss Wred of Havana, N. Y., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Davis of Ridgewood Avenue.

Fred Williams, of Glen Ridge Ave., has several pictures at the loan exhibition at Montclair Club Hall.

A subscription of six hundred dollars has been taken up by different gentlemen of the borough for the purpose of adding some standard books to the library.

Mr. Powers, of New York City, has moved into the house on Hillside Ave., which for several years has been occupied by George Selick.

Prof. Geo. Rice Carpenter, of Columbia College, who has recently become a resident of Glen Ridge, is conducting a class of English Classics.

A monthly periodical will shortly make its appearance in Glen Ridge called the "Polished Arrow." It will be devoted to the interests of the Glen Ridge Library and the Congregational Church. The paper is gotten up in an interesting style and on a double will prove very popular on the Ridge.

The Borough Health Board has been obliged to quarantine a house on Bloomfield Avenue opposite Glen Ridge Avenue, on account of the existence of both scarlet fever and diphtheria. In the families occupying the house, in enforcing the quarantine the police have done effective duty. The ladies of Glen Ridge Church have attended to the important matter of providing food supplies for the families affected, and when the sickness is abated will provide everything necessary for their comfort, as all bedding, clothing, etc., according to the sanitary code will have to be destroyed.

Musical Instruction.
Mrs. F. W. Bennett's musical season begins Thursday, September 20. Special attention given to beginners. For terms, etc., address of call at No. 537 Broadway.

The Bloomfield cadets will drill on the green at 8.45 P. M. Saturday.

Geo. W. Cook, Jr., starts on an extended business trip through New England on Monday.

The First Ward Republican Club room is open every Saturday night. Republicans are invited to drop in and discuss the situation.

Bloomfield Division No. 7, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, with Black Prince Division, of Newark, will give an exhibition drill on the Park next Monday night.

Mr. John F. Dillon's illustrated lecture, "The Footprints of Washington," introduces in a new field our popular literature. The stereoscopic views of the scenes and events in the life of the immortal Washington were excellent, and the effect was heightened by the accompanying descriptions of the lectures. We congratulate Mr. Dillon on his success.

On Wednesday evening the sober byways of Bloomfield were subjected to such an illumination as they had never experienced before. The combined radiance of gas, electricity and the moon was brought to bear on the town. Some one has advanced the theory that trees require rest at night, which is denied them by the constant glare of electric light. If so our trees will have to suffer with those of other towns.

The Watessing Base Ball Club will play their first game on Saturday afternoon at the West Orange Athletic Club. The club present a plausible plea for patronage. They have eliminated the rough element from the team and the chief aim will be to have games with gentlemanly clubs conducted in a gentlemanly manner. The game starts at 3 P. M. Following will be the make-up of the Watessing team: Catcher, A. Daley; pitcher, James; first base, Perry; second base, Thorall; short stop, Ferguson; third base, Work; fielders, Fay, Heister and A. Toth.

Out of weakness comes strength when the blood has been purified, enriched and vitalized, the appetite restored and the system built up by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"The Heart of Maryland."
The last performance of the first season of David Belasco's "The Heart of Maryland," conclusively the most potent drama the stage has ever offered (within fifteen years) are announced at the Grand Square Theatre. This is a timely word of consolation. No one who made a study of the drama in stage recreation can afford to neglect this play. For more than seven months now it has continuously thronged the auditorium of one of the biggest and most fashionable of metropolitan playhouses. Aside from the pulsing passion of the story of man's devotion and woman's sacrifice; irrespective of its brilliant ensemble of masterly characterizations, and without consideration of the elation and power of Mrs. Leslie Carter's engaging portraiture of Maryland Calvert, this drama commands enthusiasm by the perfection and fascination of its stage pictures. In what other play of recent years has the poetry which is a part of all the best been appealed to so as to make the audience feel that it is a part of the drama? The "Heart of Maryland" is a play which is a part of the drama. It is a play which is a part of the drama. It is a play which is a part of the drama.
